

Rosco Precision Machinery – A Celebration to Remember

By Stephen Hannemann

Twenty years of precision machinery sales backed by articulate customer service and technical support has been proven to stand the test of time! On June 5th President Hans Barnes, and Managing Partner Nick Houghton, of Rosco Precision Machinery, in Auburn, WA hosted an open house celebration honoring their 20 years of successfully selling to and servicing a loyal and growing machining customer base in the Pacific Northwest.

Rosco provides an arsenal of machining equipment from tool room equipment to multi spindle turning centers and horizontal and 5-axis machining options too numerous to list here in the space allowed. And there's more! After machining, it is imperative to document the accuracy of parts produced. Rosco's measurement showroom was filled with CMMs, Multisensor Measurement, Video Measurement systems and more. Hans and Nick, in tandem with their expertly knowledgeable staff, warmly engaged all who visited.

Rosco's exquisite BBQ fare provided a forum for dining, networking with colleagues and meeting new people in the business. An interesting side note, one group traveled for nearly seven hours to attend the Rosco soirée. Truly an affair to remember!

Be sure to visit www.roscoprecisionmachinery.com, or better still, call 253.333.2439 to set up your personal visit with Rosco at 4710 B St. NW, Suite 104, Auburn, WA 98001.